TRAILS REACHABLE BY CAR OR BY BUS

- THE MARBLE MOUNTAINS, DA NANG

📍 20KM FROM KARMA SONG HOAI

The Marble Mountains are located about 20km from Karma Song Hoai. Ngu Hanh Son (also known as Non Nuoc or Five Marble Mountains) is a group of five limestone and marble hills situated near Da Nang, Vietnam. Sacred to both Buddhists and Hindus, these hills feature numerous pagodas, caves, and grottoes and are a popular tourist spot offering stunning views.

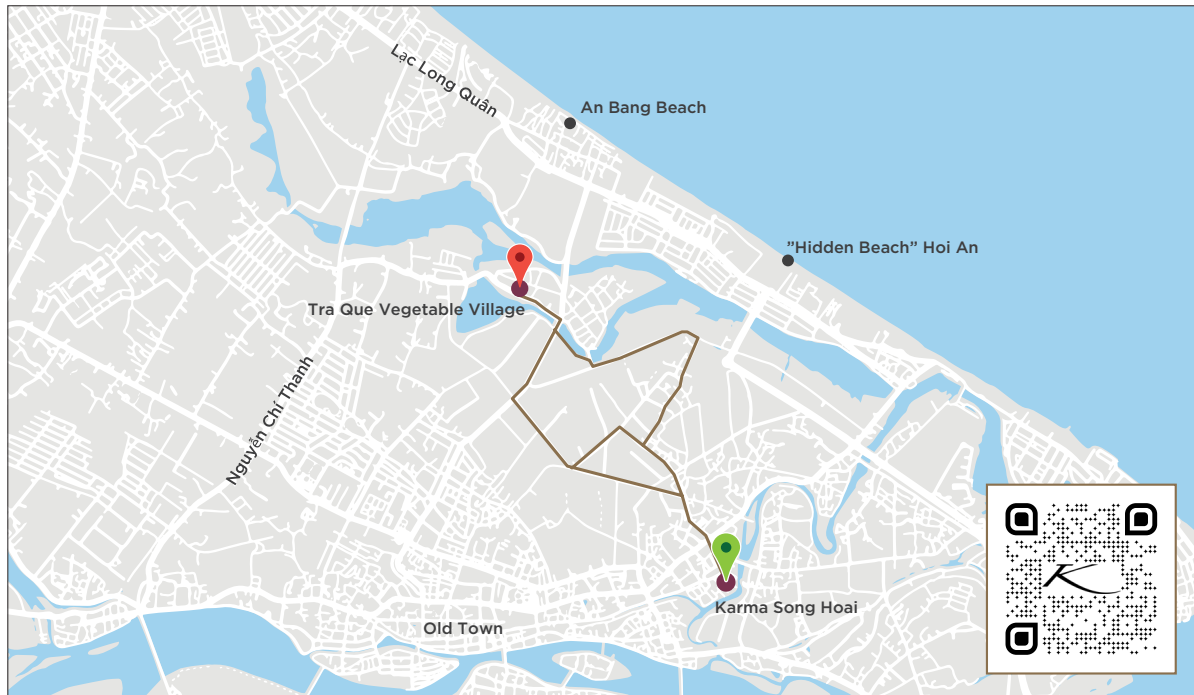

Hiking here is relatively easy, with well-paved paths and steps, though some sections are steep. Comfortable shoes are recommended. The hike spans a few kilometres and can take a couple of hours, especially if you explore all the caves and pagodas.

Key sites include Am Phu Cave (Cave of the Clouds), Chua Linh Ung Pagoda, and Tam Thai Pagoda. The caves are home to Buddhist shrines and statues, while the pagodas offer beautiful views of the surrounding area. There are several other caves, temples, and pagodas that you can explore along the way.
